040. Uncommanded start on Zipper ride

Two adults and an 8-year-old girl were injured in New Hampshire, USA, following an uncommanded start on a fairground ride as they were loading onto it. Reports state that it appears a mechanical issue caused The Zipper to move while a caged ride car was being loaded, with a woman and the young girl falling out. The ride operator was also hurt. All three were treated for minor injuries.
