050. Ferris Wheel car tipping

NAFLIC has received details of an incident on a Ferris Wheel in Kansas City in which riders were tipped out of a passenger vehicle when a part of the car or some theming on it jammed against the structure of the wheel. This resulted in the car not being able to turn/swing in the usual manner as the main wheel structure rotated, so the car inverted.

Unfortunately the link to a YouTube video of the incident is no longer available.
