INCIDENT BULLETIN — February 2017

062. Drop Tower incident

A number of riders are reported to have been injured at the Tivoli World theme park in Benalmadena, Spain, following an incident on the Torre de Caida Libre, a Drop Tower ride. Reports suggest the ride descended faster than usual. It is understood the rider carrier over travelled on the ascent, running into the stocks at the top of the tower, and then dropped down too quickly.

According to the park there were no serious injuries, although we are unable to confirm this or any further details.
